

PRIVACY POLICY

We appreciate you visiting Southern Light Tours' website and reading our privacy statement. Generally speaking, when you visit this page, no personal information about you is collected. Unless you specifically request it, you can browse the website without disclosing any Personal Information.

Site Visit data:

This website logs your visit and gathers the following data for statistical analysis: the IP address of our server; the top-level domain name (.gov,.com,.in, etc.) from which you access the Internet; the kind of browser you use; the time and date of your visit; the pages you have viewed and documents you have downloaded; and the previous URL from which you linked directly to the website.

With the possible exception of when a law enforcement agency exercises a warrant to examine the service provider's logs, we won't identify users or their browsing habits.

Cookies:

When you access information on an internet website, the site transmits a software code known as a cookie to your browser. Cookies are not used on this website.

Email Management

If you decide to send a message, only then will your email address be kept on file. It won't be added to a mailing list and will only be utilized for the reason you gave it to us. Without your permission, your email address won't be disclosed or used for any other purpose.

Collection of Personal Information:

If further personal information is requested, you will be told of its intended use and given the option to provide it.

Please use the contact us link to get in touch with the webmaster if you have any concerns or suggestions regarding the principles mentioned in this privacy statement, or if you feel that they have not been followed at any point.

Note:

Any information from which it is evident or reasonably possible to determine your identity is referred to as "Personal Information" in this privacy statement.

Copyright © 2024. All Rights Reserved. This is the official website of Southern Light Tours

This website was last updated on February 19, 2024.